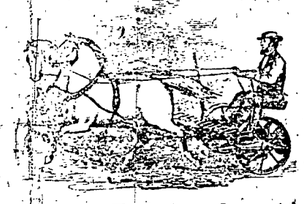
FARMERS, READ THIS!

Buckeye

Mower and Reaper!



Again Triumphant!

This extensively known, and deservedly popular Machine was submitted to the most rigorous test of its superiority, at a trial of competing machines that took place under the management of the New York Society, at Auburn, N. Y., in July 1866. The committee consisted of eleven judges, and forty machines were entered as contestants for the prize.—The trial lasted three weeks and the tests were most thorough. The result was announced at the State Fair held at Saratoga on the 14th of Sept. last, and the

GRAND GOLD MEDAL

was then awarded the

Buckeye

as the machine

Superior to All Others.

A similar testimony was awarded it in the same State, in 1865. This machine is regarded by the thousands who can speak from experience, as the Best in the World, and is manufactured by the incorporated Company of

C. AULTMAN & CO.

Canton, O.

Persons wanting any of these machines, can have them by applying to the undersigned, who is the Agent for Beaver county.

Fallston Foundry!

ENGINE & REPAIR SHOP,

In Fallston Beaver County, Pa.

HAVING refitted and enlarged my stock of machinery and tools, and having secured the services of the best of mechanics, I am prepared to warrant all work done to give entire satisfaction. I have on hand different patterns and styles of Engines, Fire Clay Rolls, and am prepared to make or repair all descriptions of machinery, on reasonable terms.

Plows and Plow Castings.

I have all the best plow patterns that suit this market, among which is the "Great Western," which has been the plow of the county for the last fifteen years. Therefare five sizes of this plow, all of which I manufacture and keep for sale; also "Patent Lever"—right and left—"Mountain King."—right and left—"Side Hill," and nearly all the different kinds in use.

Cooking, Franklin and Heating Stoves

Having made several important improvements on the "Climax," by which coal or wood can supplied without lifting lids, and having two places for pipe, either or both of which can be used at the same time, with a ventilation to the oven, thus having the advantages of a Cooking Stove, Bake Oven and Franklin Stove combined. This stove has been in constant use for twenty years, and many of them after being used for this period of time, are now in good order. There is but a small portion of this stove that ever burns out, and this is easily and cheaply replaced. To make them still more lasting, we are now putting in tile or fire brick lining. Our other patterns are the Enterprise, Keystone and Premium. Parlor stoves, large and small heating stoves, Franklin stoves, Jenny Lind's, &c. Grate and Grate Fronts, Fenders, Iron Railing of various styles, Wagon Boxes, two Irons, Tire Benders, Corn Shellers, Force and Cistern Pumps, Sad Irons, Metal Sinks for kitchen, Sheet Iron and Tin ware, always on hand and made to order. In fact, I manufacture and keep for sale, almost everything wanted in the machinery or hardware line.

Second hand stoves always for sale cheap. Two good new engines, suitable for sam-mill or shop purposes now on hand, and will be sold reasonable.

Kirby.

The news uv the election in Connecticut created the most profound sensashun at the Corners. It cum to us so unexpected, so like a slap uv thunder from a clear sky, or ruther so like a gleam uv overpowrin black clowds, so like the first streak uv sun lite in the mornin after a long nite uv colers morbus with no brandy in the house, that we wus overpowrd with it. The Corners havn't experienct sich a satisfactory spasm uv joy since the receet uv the Fort Piller affair. It produced a very singler effect on Deekin Pogram. When I cum up to him with the news, he wus engaged with all the elokence possibl tryin to convince a nigger, which formerly belonged to him, that, after all, the Southerners themselves wus the only ones which the nigger cood trust, and that when the time cum to exercise the 'lective franchise of they had regard for their own interests they, wood turn their backs on the Ablishinists, who wus to a man hoary-headed deceevers, and trust them and them only who knowd them.

"Samyooel," said the Deekin, in an affeshunit tone, with one hand on the nigger's shoulder, "why shood'nt we luv yoo? Yoo are bone uv our bone and flesh uv our flesh, we are uv one blood—(this remark the Deekin got into the habit some years ago uv gettin off when speekin uv the Dimocricy North, and allsu uses it. It is ruther effective, tho in this instince, ef I hed been in his place, I shoodn't have slung it out on in to the pecooliar construckshun which might be put onto it,) and our interists is one, Samyooel."

"Deekin," sez I, interruptin him. "Deekin, Connecticut has spoken in thunder tones, and hez gone democratic!"

"What," sez he, "Democratic!"

"Verily," sez I, "A Governor and three Congresmen out uv four."

There was a sudden pupter uv the friendly relashuns existin between the Deekn an Samyooel, the dark complexioned. Ef he wus of the Deekin's flesh the Deekin was in favor of motifyin it, for never saw flesh so belabored ez wuz that unfortunit chattell's. The flesh wus immejitly lasserated. He pitched into him ferosshus, and after pummellin the astonished Aferkin, who didn't see why the result uv a eleckshun shood work such a change, till he wuz out uv breath, he compresst wat strength he hed remainin into one vigrous kick, exclaimin:

"Take that, yoo black swindler. I've talked sweet to you under false pretenses, I've been betraed into wastin my sawder onto a nigger—into coaxin wher I hev a ondeniable right to command—into—"

"What does all this mean?" said the nigger faintly.

"Mean?" sez I to him, "my friend this is the reaction wev'e been so much afeard of—its arriv. It means that you've been exceedingly good chanse uv yoo—" normal speer uv yoor comin down again from the high hoss yoov'e been ridin and in bein again a servant onto yoor brethern. It means that Connecticut has spoken, and that yoor a good deal mor valyooable to me now than yoo wuz an hour ago. Go my friend and buye salve for yoor broozes, for onless yoor heeled, yoor valyoo wood be less in the market.—Yoo'd be ashamed to sell for a low price wood n't yoo?"

I left the Dimocrisy jubilant and come up to Washington, feelin that I must go wher I cood find kindred soles. The nite I arrived ther was high carnival at the White House.—The President wuz in tall feather. There wuz Connecticut visable all over him. He had a wooden nutmeg for a buzzem pin—a minatoor bass wood ham hung from his watch fob, and in honor of the occashun he wuz drinking punches made from Noo England rum, with small slices of Wethersfield onions in them instead of lemons. Randall sprang toward me ez I entered the room, and clasped me by the hand—the President by tother, and we then—not onlike the three graces—embraced.—They hed the advantage uv me, ez they hed one oder—the onion—which I hedn't but I stood it. Why not, when that oder wuz from the breaths of those lavin the apintin power? I wood hev stood it hed they been eatin assafoetida.

At this juncture Secretary Welles come in.

"Ha," said he, "why this unwonted hilarity? why this joy wher greef gennerally holds her court?"

"The Connecticut eleckshun," said Seward.

"Oh to be suze," said the venerable old man yacantly, "I remember. Hawley wuz it, or some other man who wuz elected over—over—wat wuz his name?—our candidate?

"That wuz last year," said Seward angrily.

"Well perhaps it wuz. When did that State vote again?" he asked innocently, to which no answer was given. But verry little attention is paid to Seckretary Welles by anyone ceptin Seward, and the fact that he occashunally undertakes to keep him posted in current events is gennerally taken ez evidence that he is brakin up. Poor William, its evident he's passin into his dotage.

There was a pleasant gatherin. Cowan and Doolittle and Seymour and Brooks, and more congratulatory letters were read than wood fill a page of the New York Herald. John C. Breckenridge hoped this auspicious event wuz the beginnin uv good feelin presagin, ez he trusted it did, the eventual triumph of them which he hed alluz been proud to call his friends. Mayor Monroe, uv Noo Orleans, hoped that after this evidence of returning reason, President Johnson wood not hesitate to remove that second Butler, General Sheridan, who was sojus to every friend the President had in the city of which he was lately Mayor. General Wise sent his congratulashuns, but ez they occupied thirty-eight pages uv legal cap paper, closely written, they wuzn't read; Mosby sent an allegorical pipe, made uv a corn cob, onto which was carved a symbollicle nigger with the American eagle with his claws in his wool, and Fernando Wood and Jesse D. Brite and Dan Voorhees sent theirn, and Valandingham wanted to know now whether the President wuz a going to accept the situashun and take the Democratic party to his buzzem? If so, he hed a list uv appintments for Southern Ohio he wished to make. At this pint the question aroso whether or not I hed not better move my Classicle and Military Institute to Connecticut? I am a practicle man, an I tu wunts asked, ez pertinent to the question, whether or not there was a distillory in Connectict, and sekond, whether or not there wuz a vacant post offs within four miles uv it.

Sekretary Randall replied: He wood not hold out endooesements that he coodn't fulfill. He wus honest. Honesty wus his best holt—simpel, childlike, strate forwareness in hiz deelings in politix wus hiz cheef failin and hed bin well nigh hiz rooin. The furst query wus easy tu anser—the elekshun returns wood indicate to eny man uv ordinary intelleck that there wuz distilleries either in Connecticut or very handy to the Stait, but there wuz no post offisis to spare. To carry the Stait every wun uv em hed bin solumly promist.

The President remarkt that he reely shoodn't think that triflin circumstances wood interfeer with given uv em to other men.

At this pint I broke in. I told em firmly that onless I cood hev a better post offis than the wun I hed, I woodn't go. I cood go and cood muve wat there iz uv the Colledge bildins.—It woodn't cost much to pay frate on that corner stun. I spose a better wun cood be got in Connetikut at less than the cost uv transportin it, but wherever that Democratik Coolidge iz built that must be the corner stun uv it. That stun is halloed: There are tender associashuns hangin round. It wuz the corner stun uv a nigger skool house wich we burnt to the ground the nite we herd uv the voto uv the Civil Rites Bill. But I wunt go to Connetikut onless my subsistence iz assshoored. Ther iz more money ther than in Kentuky but I doubt whether they wood support me ez well. I speek frankly. I kin understand why a man can be a Dimokrat in Kentuky—he's interested in niggers. I kin appreciate the Democrisy uv the South, Injeana, Illenois and Ohio, coz they cum frum that region, and the second generashuns hasn't got to be voters, I kin understand the Democrsy in Heenan's and Funander Wood's deestriks, but pardon me—I want to keep cleer uv Connetikut Dimokrats. A people any where in Noo England wich can deliberitly sell their selves to us iz just the kind uv people I don't want to be among. I instinkively mistrust a Yankee who haz dickered away hiz interest in Bunker Hill. I hav notist that a Noo Englander that cum South and married and loe maid, or widder with a plantashun wuz never to be trusted, and it's my experience that a demoralized Yankee—wun hes hed his early trainin, and took up any body eles's close, is about the meanest specimen uv a white man on the face uv the green earth. They hev the acoutness wich is born uv a barren soil, with out the Puritanism to keep it within bounds—they possess the ability to make a livin on their nativ rox, but his laziness impels him to a easier existence in milder climes and instid uv fishin for mackerel he goes South and fishes for men. A Noo Englander unrestrained by grace iz pizen, and I bleve Connetiket is full uv em. I hev heer'd Massachootsets' religion aboosed, but it's suthin we may well be thankful for, I hev alles been thankful that the Mayflower brot over religion ez well ez brains and will.

Among the Connecticut Democrasy I shood stand no show, and beside, I hev too much self respeck to soshiate with em on terms of equality. Instid uv foragin on em they'd manage to live on me. I hev lambs to shear in Kentuky, and I don't care about changin em. I don't want to throw eny cold water onto this festiv occasion, it being a element we all despise, but, hev we eny ashoorance uv their continyoon troo? Ef I understand it, we wun by means uv patrunage, and runnin a War Dimokrat, a beim I, in common with all troo Democrats, despise. We can't do it again. The next blast that sweeps from the North will bring to our ears a story of another kind. One swaller don't make a spring—I hev know of calves bein born with two heads. This eleckshun, I fear me, is wun uv these monstrooities wich nacher sometimes perdooses to sho what she is capable uv. It aint normal. I hev no objeckshun, to yoor feelin good over it—it rejoict me, coz it'll give our friends South courage, and may skeer the Radicals into givin us better terms, but—

My remarks wuz interrupted by Saulsbury, who hed ben siruptously drinkin punch with the ladie, and the odor uv the onions overcomis him he rolled under the table, and very shortly after the metin broke up. I leave for home tomorrer, or ez soon ez I kin draw my mileage.

Abraham Lincoln.

Monday, last week, was the anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln, and yet so quietly did the event steal upon the country that scarcely one journal in ten noticed it editorially at the time. The day commemorated by that date is one that can never be forgotten by the American people, though it claims no prominence as a time set apart for public recognition. The deed that marked it was the last blow of traitors at the life of our Government, and though in that sense it failed, it struck down the great bulwark and head of the nation. The hour of triumph was overshadowed by a sorrow such as had never before rested upon our country. When that terrible dispatch, "Abraham Lincoln is dead," shuddered over the wires, the rejoicing heart of the people for a moment stood still. With its returning beats was registered the vow, that the spirit which nerved the assassin's hand, and which had for four years striven to destroy our common liberties, should be utterly and wholly crushed out. Twenty years hence will tell how well that vow has been kept.

When the body of Abraham Lincoln passed on through our great cities to its last resting place, the streets, railroads and the churches were crowded with men who came to do his remains honor. All men joined in his praise, and no tongue was found to wag against his memory. Over his tomb orators poured forth their burning eloquence, whose echoes shall reach down through generations to come.—The pulpit, the halls of legislation, the forum all did reverence to the spirit of the great departed.

And the feeling then rife has not died out.—So long as the American nation endures, so long shall the name and fame of Abraham Lincoln be cherished. No finer tribute, or of a more fitting character, has ever been paid to man than that spoken by Schuyler Colfax as a funeral oration.

"In the fiery trial to which the nation has been subjected we have given of the bravest and best of the land. The South is billowed with the graves where sleep the patriot martyrs of constitutional liberty till the resurrection morn. The vacant chair at the table of thousands upon thousands tells of those who, inspired by the sublimest spirit of self sacrifice, have died that the republic might survive. Golden and living treasures have been heaped upon our country's alter. But, after all these costly sacrifices had been offered, and the end seemed almost at hand, a costlier sacrifice had to be made; and from the highest place in all the land the victim came. Slaughtered at the moment of victory, the blow was too late to rob him of the grand place he has won for himself in history.

"Murdered, coffined, buried, he will live with those few immortal names who were no born to die; live as the father of the faithful, in the time that tried men's soul's; live in the grateful hearts of the dark-browed race he lifted from under the heel of the oppressor to the dignity of freedom and of manhood; live in every bereaved circle which has given him father, husband, son, or friend to die, as he did, for his country; live with the glorious company of martyrs to liberty, justice, and humanity, that trio of heaven-born principles; live in the love of all beneath the circuit of the sun who loathe tyranny, slavery, and wrong. And leaving behind him a record that shows how honesty and principle lifted him, self-made, as he was, from the humblest ranks of the people to the noblest station on the globe, and a name that shall brighten under the eye of posterity as the ages roll by."—Erie Dispatch.

Congressional Buffalo Hunt.

An interesting diversion from the "wild goose chase" of politics will be "the Congressional Buffalo Hunt," which is announced to take place on the Plains next summer. Wade, Yates, Chandler, Howard, Patterson, Morrill, Nye, Cameron, Poland, among Senators, are written down for the party: and of Representative buffalo hunters, Covode, Bingham, Williams, Orth, Baldwin, Hooper, McPherson, Lawrence, Marston and Ketchem, constitute a lively portion. Dr. Burleigh, delegate from Dakota, is authority for these facts, which appear in The Herald of St. Jo. The national pic-nic party referred to must meet in Yankton, Dakota, about the first of June, and thence proceed to the prairies. Not all of them will go West and hunt Buffaloes rather than remain nearer home and be hunted by bores.

A Word to Boys.

A writer in an educational journal makes the following pertinent and truthful remarks to boys, which we deem worthy a prominent place in our columns. Boys, listen:

The first thing you want to learr, to devolve what force is in you, is self-reliance; that is, as regards your relation to man. If I were going to give you a formula for developing the most forcible set of men, I should say: Turn them upon their own resources with moral and religious truths when they are boys, and teach them to "depend on self and not on father." If a boy is thrown upon his own resources at fifteen, with the world before him where to chose, and he fights the battle of life self-handed up to manhood, and don't develop more than an average share of executive ability, then there is no stuff in him worth talking about. He may learn to "plow, and sow, and reap, and mow." But this can all be done with machines and horses, and a man wants to be better than either of these,—Wipe out of your vocabulary every such word as fail, give up wishing for improbable results, put your hand to the plow, or whatever tool you take to, and then drive on and never look back. Don't even sight your person to see if it is straight; "don't be consistent, but be simply true." If you go out to "see a reed shaken by the wind," it is pretty likely you will never see anything of more consequence.

Rebels Vs Copperheads.

"Occasional," in Forney's Press writes as follows:

"The argument that the colored man is unworthy of and unfit to exercise the right of suffrage, still insisted upon by the Copperhead leaders of the North, is constantly brought into contempt by the unceasing importunities of the ex-rebel leaders for the colored votes in the South. And if the freedmen should go to the polls in one mass and sustain only their friends, and elect blacks as well as whites to office, the very fact that these late managers of public opinion have appealed to them for their support, and have offered in return to stand by their interests in the future, will prevent them from quarreling with the result. The high tributes to the potential influence, courage, and intelligence of the Southern negroes, daily paid by these shrewd and experienced politicians, no matter how insincere they are, must become of record as so many valuable concessions. A party thus solemnly admitting before God and man that the new voters are worthy of their confidence can never set up the plea, after an election, that society will be disorganized if the freedmen secure the majority. Had the ex-rebels taken the other ground, and denounced their recent slaves, or refused to vote because these slaves had been made voters, they might consistently complain of a consolidated colored vote. But when they electioneer, and promise almost everything to win that vote, they are foreclosed against protest, and bound to submit. The situation in Tennessee proves that the revolution has reached more than the black's in that, as in other quarters. Impressed by inexorable events, and confounded by the sagacity of the blacks, the old rebel influences (they call it 'conservative') has entered the field in bold competition with the Radicals. In Tennessee the negroes are voters and citizens, but cannot hold office, or sit on the juries. These franchises will be easily secured if the Radicals carry the August election, as from all appearances they overwhelmingly will. But the ex-rebels believing that they can delude the men they have so long oppressed, openly propose that if the freedmen will support their candidates, they will take the lead in passing laws providing that negroes may hold office and sit on the juries. Indeed, so anxious are the authors of the rebellion and their followers, to obtain the confidence of the colored citizens, that you may expect to see them openly espousing the whole Radical programme, and bitterly denouncing the Copperheads of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio, for refusing to allow the colored people in those States the same rights that have been secured to their brethern in the South. Their position would be far more honorable than that occupied by their faithless sympathizers in the old free States. That it must be assumed by the former for their own safety, is just as clear as that it will be finally occupied by the latter, if they desire to co-operate with their late political associates, or expect to have any influence in American politics.

THE Wilmington (N. C.) Dispatch thus commences a leader intended to persuade the blacks to vote the anti-Republican ticket:

"This world is ruled by selfishness. The idea that friendship can exist without community of interest is preposterous. The thing called principle controls the action of a very small portion of humanity. The Utopian notion that honor rules the mind of man, and that devotion to truth is the general law, is an exploded humbug. We were ourselves laboring under the pleasant delusion until the Sherman bill passed; but since then our experince has taught us some lessons of wisdom.

"Interest is the moving power that dictates the policy of all races and nations. The negroes are a'ganized yes when they believe that Northern people are better friends to them than their former masters. The Southern people are interested in being their friends and in dealing fairly and kindly with them. The Northern people are only interested in making money out of their ignorance. This we shall endeavor to prove to the negroes, not from any particular love for them or devotion to their interest, but because we can serve a selfish purpose by telling them the truth."

—We must say that the gentleman has an uncommonly frank way of "putting things."

A PARIS WEDDING INCIDENT.—The other day a wedding took place at the Madeleine Church, between a very noble gentleman and lady, and among the crowd that gathered outside to see the splendid bridal party was a miserable beggar about twelve years old. Now in Paris every one who has not something to sell is carried off to a police house—if they stop in the streets as this one did—and accordingly an officer was just asking her if she had anything to dispose of, and the poor thing was trembling in every limb for fear of imprisonment, when a sweet little girl, a sister of the bride, happened to overhear the policeman as she passed by, and to save the ragged offender, she quickly placed in her hand a superb bouquet she was carrying, and answering for her, said, "Yes, she has these flowers, but she asks too much and I cannot buy them." As she turned to go on, an old gentleman, who saw and understood it all, stepped forward, and putting a gold piece in the poor child's palm, remarked, "I will give twenty francs for it," and presented it to the amiable angel whose goodness had been more fragrant and beautiful than the choicest blossom that ever graced a garden.

A Year's Work of Dram Selling.

Carefully compiled statistics show that sixty thousand lives are annually destroyed by intemperance in the United States.

One hundred thousand men and women are yearly sent to prison in consequence of strong drink.

Twenty thousand children are yearly sent to the poor house for the same reason.

Three hundred murders are another of the yearly fruits of intemperance.

Four hundred suicides follow these fearful catalogues of misery.

Two hundred thousand orphans are bequeathed each year to private and public charity.

Two hundred millions of dollars are yearly expended to produce this shocking amount of crime and misery; as much more is lost from the same cause.—Young Men.

THE Albany Post, says: "A few months since Vanderbilt played a corner on Brother Drew, costing the latter nearly a million of dollars. It is now said that Brother Drew has Vanderbilt in a 'corner,' in such a fix, that it will cost him three milion of dollars to get back to the place of begining."

MR. MARTIN LEONARD, of Pittsford, Vermont, from eight hens, raised last year, forty-five chickens, sold seven hundred and ten dozen eggs for $62, besides using one hundred and ten dozen in his family. Mr. L. says his hens are a greater source of profit to him than his sheep.

Republican State Convention.

HARRISBURG, April 16, 1867.

The "Republican State Convention" will meet at the "Hendie House," in Williamsport, on Wednesday, the 26th of June next, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to nominate a candidate for the Supreme Court, and to initiate proper measures for the ensuing State canvass.

As heretofore, the Convention will be composed of Representative and Senatorial Delegates, chosen in the usual way, and equal in number to the whole of the Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly.

By order of the State Central Committee.

F. JORDAN, Chairman.
GEO. W. HAMERSLY,
A. W. BENEDICT,
J. ROBLEY DUNGLISON, } Secretaries.

THE TRIAL of Surratt for complicity in the murder of the President, is now fixed to take place on the 27th of May. The Court, the defence and the prosecution have all consented to begin it on that day.

THE MEXICAN Empire appears to have come to grief. The Washington authorities have received information to the effect that the troops of Maximilian, after losing the battle of Queretaro, disbanded, and it is thought will offer no further resistance. Maximilian himself is reported to be secreted, and will now make an effort to escape from the country.—So the Mexican "business" is at last settled.

THE Democracy as a general thing, are a "spunky set of fellows." One of their organs in Rochester, New York, is "riled," we presume, because a majority of its party friends were not elected delegates to the Constitutional Convention in that State, and advises the Democrats who were elected to stay away from the Convention, and thus embarrass the movement as much as possible. Its advice, will however, hardly be heeded.

A MOVEMENT has been started in the Western States with a view of bringing Secretary Stanton forward as the next Union Candidate for the Presidency of the United States. Governor Fletcher of Missouri is said to be at the head of the project, and it is also asserted that quite a number of other influential western men are laboring to that end.

THE New York Tribune of May 1st is of the opinion that war between France and Prussia has been averted for the time being at least.—France gives up her claim to Luxemburg, and Prussia consents to the dismantling of all the fortifications within its borders. Virtually, then, the little State is independent of both of these powers, for all of which it may congratulate itself, and that the peace of Europe is not likely to be disturbed by a war between France and Prussia, will be hailed with joy everywhere.

AN important rumor prevailed at Washington last week to the effect that Chief Justice Chase was about to exchange Judicial Circuits with Associate Justice Field. If the exchange is made, the Chief Justice will hold the United States Circuit Court for Oregon and California, while Judge Field will have the old Circuit of Virginia and Maryland. The reason given for this change is the trial of Jeff. Davis—the Chief Justice not wishing to conduct the trial, while the Associate has no objection to doing so.

WM. H. ENGLISH, the gentleman who was recently elected Governor of Connecticut, was inaugurated on the 1st of May. In, his inaugural address, he arrays himself against the Congress of the United States, and abuses that body about as much as he can. The Senate, in extra session, also comes in for its share of his venom, because it did not permit the President to appoint unworthy or incompetent men to fill the offices of the country. Probably, if this tirade against the law-making power of the country had been delivered before the recent election, Mr. English and the Democracy of Connecticut would not have fared as well as they did. During the campaign he claimed, and was voted for as a "war democrat," and not as a "copperhead," which he now shows himself to be.

The Flag in Charleston.

General Sickles has shown that he is emphatically the right man in the right place, by teaching the ex-rebels that their determination to ignore, on all possible occasions, and in every manner, the existence of a Federal Government, must come to an end. We are told that when the annual parade of the fire department took place in Charleston, on the 28th ult., it had been arranged that there should be no American flag in the procession—a bit of negative treason which was promptly corrected by an order from General Sickles that there should be no further advance without the stars and stripes. "Some felling was occasioned by this order"—a feeling which will doubtless, meet with a cordial response from myriads of sympathetic Copperheads in the North, but it was of no avail. The demonstration was, in the fullest sense, of a public municipal character, and General Sickles properly decided that those concerned had no right to withhold the usual manifestation of respect for national authority, especially under circumstances which made the omission a tacit insult to his authority. Military logic is of a sternly persuasive power, and so notwithstanding the "feeling," the flag was found and raised, and the procession went on. All honor to the General who has shown such glorious spirit in teaching the reconstructed gentlemen that when they march they must keep step to the music of the Union!—Philadelphia Press.

THE JAPANESE Commissioners, at present at Washington, have proposed the purchase of light draught vessels of war, and iron-clads, from our Government. From the quantity of these on hand, and useless as they now seem to be to us, we should judge their orders might be quickly filled.

HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX, speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, has been invited, and accepted the invitation, to deliver his lecture "Across the Continent," to a New York audience, the proceeds of which is to go to the Southern Relief Fund.

THE "eight hour" law of Illinois occasions trouble in Chicago. The employers and the employes oannot come to terms, and the result is, business is almost entirely suspended, and a riotous disposition prevails throughout the city. Fearful of violence, the Mayor of the town issued a proclamation on Friday last requesting all "good citizens" to obey the laws and assist in maintaining the peace in the city. In some instances, employes demand ten hours' pay for eight hours' labor; in others employes ask eight hours' pay for eight hours' labor, while others are willing to work the same number of hours as heretofore receiving the same pay.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE is now agitating Great Brittain. Feminine talkers and writers are about as busy in that country as they are in this, but with this distinction: While all of our fair ones are in favor of female suffrage, the British ladies are divided on the subject—some writing and speaking in favor of the measure and others busily opposed to it.

GEN. CARL SCHURZ has purchased an interest in The Westliche Post, a German paper of St. Louis Mo., and will in the future be joint editor with Emil Pretorious. General S. is a ready writer, an active politician of the radical school, and will no doubt make himself felt in the State to which he has just moved.

THE Republican State Convention of Vermont have issued a call for a State Convention to be held at Montpelior on the 30th of this month. The candidates to be nominated are Governor, Lt. Governor and State Treasurer. The election occurs in September.

EX GOVERNOR WRIGHT, formerly of Indiana, now Minister to Prussia, is reported, to be at the point of death. Governor Wright is widely known as an able Statesman, an active patriot and a christian gentleman Should the rumor concerning his illness prove true, his loss will be keenly felt by many of the christian nations of the world, for religion had no warmer friend than he was.

GEN. SHERIDAN is operating on his "own hook," within the limits of his Military Department. About the first of April he telegraphed to Gen. Grant for explicit orders in carrying out the Reconstruction act of Congress. He got no reply. A week later, he telegraphed again, and was informed by General Grant that the Attorney General was preparing instructions, and until these were received, he should give the reconstruction act his own construction, and govern his official conduct accordingly. Since then, the General's course has tended to "make treason odious," and loyalty respectable, for all of which he has invoked the "copperhead" wrath of the whole country.

JUDGE KELLEY, Representative in Congress from this State, has started for the South, on a stumping tour, in company with Col. John N. Taggart. They expect to be absent about six weeks, and will speak at Nashville, Memphis, Vicksburg, New Orleans, and at other points. Judge Kelley takes the stump against all "comers" provided he is given a half hour in which to close the discussion. He is a very effective speaker, and will not likely meet with any one in the Southern States who will be disposed to "cross swords" with him.

THE New York Tribune is very indignant and berates the President soundly for pardoning a Saloman Kohnstamm, who was serving out a term of ten years at Sing Sing for defrauding the Government out of about a half million of dollars during the war. Kohnstamm's crime was that of dealing in, and getting up fictitious claims against the Government and having them sworn to by men hired for the purpose. In this manner he amassed a fortune of half a million. Justice finally overtook him, and when brought to its bar, forty eight indictments were recorded against him in the United States court. He was tried, convicted, and sentenced to hard labor at Sing Sing for ten years. A couple of weeks ago, he received a pardon from the President, and is now at liberty, to commence we suppose, his career of fraud again. A woman is said to have moved the President to pity in his behalf.

THE case of Jeff. Davis appears to be nearing a solution. His counsel, (Mr. Shea of New York city) has applied to Judge Underwood of the United States Circuit Court for the District of Virginia, for a writ of habeas corpus in his behalf. A similar application was made some twelve months ago, but refused, we believe on the ground that Davis was held as a prisoner of war, and without the jurisdiction of the civil authorities. Judge Underwood now allows the writ, and makes it returnable before the Court at Richmond on Monday, the 13th inst. At that time the ex-confederate President, will either be put upon trial, discharged finally, or released upon nominal bail. At all events, when once taken from his prison at Fortress Monroe, we have no idea that he will ever be returned to it again.

IT is greatly to the credit of the workingmen in Chicago that they, or a majority of them have ceased to insist on ten hours' pay for eight hours' labor, and have concluded to ask pay for only as many hours as they work. Of course a position so utterly untenable as the one that was first taken—that is, as much pay for a day's work of eight hours as they have been receiving for a day's work of ten hours—must be speedily abandoned. Now let it be understood that every man may, without interference, make his own bargain, and work for what he can sell his labor, and something like reason will prevail.—Pitts. Com.

RICHMOND VA., must be a delightful place to live in. The United States District Court, Judge Underwood, presiding, commenced its session in that city on Monday last. "The Judge, in his charge congratulated the Jury, that though it had been threatened with destruction by assassination, yet thanks to Congress, it met now in security. This promised better things for Richmond, a city where the press had reached the lowest depths of profligacy, the pulpit had been prostituted by the ministry, and gay Lotharios and licentiousness had reigned until half the children were illegitimate. The jury would have a good deal of work, much of it created by the demoralization of the people, by the disloyal press which had encouraged perjury and counterfeiting to cheat the Government. He called attention to the fact that negroes were not allowed the freedom of the street cars."

THE eight hour labor bill which was introduced in the Legislature of our State last winter, did not become a law, as is supposed by some. The bill passed the House, and then remained in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee until the close of the Session, without coming up for consideration.

The Horrors of Military Despotism.

Senator Dixon, on reaching his home and being duly serenaded, we were told by telegram. "Spoke of the South as in a state of Slavery under the Military bill, which placed in the hands of the President the lives of all the citizens without trial by jury."

We entreat the President not to hang ten or twenty thousand of those citizens "without trial by jury." It wouldn't look well. And besides, two Bens (Butler and Loan) are "after him with a sharp stick," termed impeachment, and a third (Wade) stands ready to step into his shoes. On the whole, therefore, we consider it tolerably safe that the President won't string the Southrons up like onions, even though the Military bill did pass.

The World feels even worse than Senator Dixon. The iron has entered its soul; so it shrieks at "The Iron Heel" after this distressing fashion:

"If there is one American citizen who can read the letter of Gen Pope to Gov. Jenkins of Georgia, of Gen. Sickles to Gen. Clitz, and the warning of Gen. Schofield to The Richmond Times, and yet not feel his blood boiling in every artery, he is more to be pitied than any citizen of the prostrate, helpless South. It is more degraded to be insensible than to suffer.

"Despotism has its logic as well as liberty. Pope, Sickles, and Schofield make no false steps in theirs. It is not inconsistent with the military despotism established by the Reconstruction act of the last Congress it is in perfect accordance with that partisan, vindictive, and law-defying enactment," &c., &c., &c.

—Let us heed these groans, and try to give the sufferer an anodyne; first endeavoring to understand what is the matter.

1. Gen. Pope is in command of the Military District embracing the State of Georgia. Mr. Charles J. Jenkins was made Governor of that State under Mr. Johnson's plan of Reconstruction. Gen. Pope directs that Jenkins, and all the sub-Jenkinses, shall remain in office, and administer the Government, subject to the provisions of the reconstruction act of Congress. Jenkins sees fit publicly to counsel the Georgians to treat that law as invalid and try to have it set aside. Gen. Pope tells him that that won't do; if the Governor is to remain in office under "the Military bill," he musn't advise the people to defy and seek to subvert that act. If he chooses to try that policy, he must not do it as his (Gen. Pope's) appointee to the Governorship. Horrible, isn't it? Yet what else could Gen. Pope do unless he should see fit to resign and take himself out of Georgia?

2. Gen. Schofield is Military Commandant of the district which includes Virginia:—headquarters at Richmond. The Times (ex-Rebel) of that city sees fit to speak of the attitude of those Black Virginians who incline to act and vote with the Republican party in these words:

"It is a proposition which implies that they are ready to grasp the blood stained hands of the authors of our ruin."

Gen. Schofield says he desires the utmost liberty of speech and of the press, but thinks this allusion to the army and loyal people of the United States not the thing. In short, he just endures this outbreak, and won't stand any more such. Isn't he a Haynau?

3. Gen. Sickles finds that the fireman of Charleston, S. C., right [under his nose] have contracted the bad habit of disfavoring the flag of their country. They had a great parade last year, wherein they displayed a great variety of flags, but that of the United States was not among them. He remarked the circumstances, but was assured that it was an inadvertence, so he let it pass. But last Friday they had another grand annual parade, and again their long lines displayed all manner of flags but that which was shot down at Sumter, and wouldn't stay down; and now he couldn't help seeing that the insult was intentional and deliberate. He was fairly forced to try conclusions with the unchanged Rebels, and determine whether they were or were not his masters. So he gave this order to Gen. Clous, his Post Commandant:

"I desire that you will at once send for the Chief of the Fire Department, and inform him that the national standard must be borne in front of the columns; that an escort of honor, to consist of two members of each company present, will be detailed by himself to march with the colors; that the colors be placed opposite the reviewing personage on the ground designated for the review; and that every person in the column shall salute the colors by lifting his hat or cap on arriving at the point three paces distant from the colors, and carrying the cap uplifted, marching past the colors to the point three paces distant from the same.

"The Mayor of the city, the Chief of the Fire Department and the foreman of companies will be held responsible for the observance of this order, and they are hereby authorized and required to arrest any person who disobeys it. You will take such measures as you find to be necessary to insure the execution of this order.

"D. E. SICKLES, Major-General Commanding."

—That order brought the matter to a focus at once. As the procession was forbidden to move till it was obeyed they soon found a U. S. flag (it had been pretended that they couldn't get one,) placed it and guarded it as directed, and were then allowed to "proceed in order," as they say in Congress. Nobody was hurt, and nobody is likely to be, in consequence; and The World says Gen. Sickles's order "is quite in accordance with that military despotism established" by the Reconstruction act. So we think; yet our "blood" is not "boiling," nor even simmering. In fact, its condition is remarkably healthful and natural since reading Gen. Sickles's order.—N. Y. Tribune.

GEORGIA.

REPUDIATION OF GOV. JENKINS'S POLICY.

At a public meeting of the citizens of Barlow county, Georgia, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we view with astonishment and deep regret the attempt of C. J. Jenkins to renew the difficulties and invite further legislation by the United States Congress.

Resolved, That having seen the desolation and suffering caused by such advisers in the past, we are determined, by the assistance of our worthy District Commander, Gen. Pope, that this people in the future shall ever show a willingness to abide the decisions of a majority of the voters of the United States, and obey the laws given to them by our Congress

Resolved, That the class of politicians who have brought ruin upon our country are no longer worthy the support of a free people; that their suggestions are only equaled in impudence by their former attempt at secession, and that in the future we will trust our destiny in the hands alone of such men as are truly worthy of the confidence of the Government of our fathers.

Out in the Cold.

The Supreme Court of the United States has unanimously decided that an injunction against the President of the United States, to restrain him from executing a law of Congress, cannot hold, and in the case of Mississippi has been denied. The court in its decision says:

"The impropriety of such interference will be clearly seen upon consideration of its probable consequences. Suppose the bill filed and the injunction prayed for be allowed. If the President refuse obedience, it is needless to observe that the court is without power to enforce its process. If, on the other hand, the President complies with the order of the court, and refuses to execute the act of Congress, is it not clear that a collision may occur between the executive and legislative departments of the Government? May not the House of Representatives impeach the President for such refusal? and in that case could this court interpose in behalf of the President, thus endangered by compliance with its mandate, and restrain, by injunction, the Senate of the United States from sitting as a court of impeachment? Would not the strange spectacle be offered to the public wonder of an attempt by this court to arrest proceedings in that court?

"These question answer themselves. It is true that a state may file an original bill in this court, and it may be true in some cases such a bill may be filed against the United States, but we are fully satisfied that this court has no jurisdiction of a bill to enjoin the President in the performance of his official duties, and that no such bill ought to be received by us. It has been suggested that the bill contains a prayer that if the relief sought cannot be had against Andrew Johnson as President, it may be granted against Andrew Johnson as a citizen of Tennessee, but it is plain that the relief against the execution of an act of Congress by Andrew Johnson is relief against its execution by the President."

Mississippi is, therefore, and will be kept "out in the cold" a little longer, and the Sharky-anti-reconstruction dodge will avail her just nothing at all. Georgia will of course meet with no better success at the hands of the court.

How Good Soldiers May be Degraded.

"Horace" the Harrisburg correspondent of the Chambersburg Repository makes these pertinent remarks in connection with the next Supreme Judgship of this State. Soldiers, who have served their country faithfully and well should give earnest heed to what is here said on the subject of disfranchising the deserters and skulkers from our army.

"The election of Supreme Judge next fall is of vital importance, as the result will determine the character of the court. If the court shall continue as politically constituted now, there can be no hope whatever that deserters can be disfranchised in this State. No matter what legislation may be had on the subject, it will be overruled, and the deserter will be able to cast his vote side by side with the gallant soldier whose sacrifices saved our institutions.—A constitutional convention might effect this measure of justice to the cowardly and faithless in our State, but no matter how done, if ever done, it must be done over the most earnest efforts of the Democracy. Is it not a singular spectacle for a great party, claiming success in a loyal State, to be the apologist and champion for every cowardly skulker from the army, and for every perfidious sympathizer with our country's foes? Will the people ever cease to remember the indelible stigma upon the Democracy.

Retirement of Secretary Seward.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Auburn, New York, the home of Secretary Seward, where he is at present on a visit, says:

"It may be interesting to you to know that this visit of the Secretary of State is but preliminary to his retirement from the stage of politics and public life, where, during the past forty years his role has been so prominent a one. He thinks that now in his sixty-six th year, when verging on the three-score and ten alloted to man, he has fulfilled his part and played it to completion as far as in his power so to do, and that he is now entitled to withdraw from the busy scenes, in which he has so long been a conspicuous actor, to accomplish the remaining portion of the journey of life in the quiet and seclusion of home. The statement that he had so intended to retire from public life has been made before, but only on the authority which the author thereof derived from his own inferences. It was known that after the party which he had brought into being had stept over him in its own impetuosity, leaving him stranded far behind, his chagrin at its ingratitude decided him on such a step: but other counsels prevailed with him and delayed for a few years the consumation of his purpose."

Vacant Post Offices.

The following is a correct list of the post offices left unfilled at the last session of the Senate:—New York—Newburg; Pennsylvania—Milton and Newcastle; Ohio—Finlay and Van Wert; Indiana—Bloomington and Jeffersonville; Michigan—Tecumseh and Owasso; Illinois—Litchfield, Para, Champaign and Jerseyville; total 14. There may be one or two more to be added to this list, as there are some others whose status is not yet determined. These cases will be taken up this week and disposed of in the manner heretofore indicated, viz. By the assignment of special agents to the charge of each post office. This proceeding is regarded by the President and Cabinet as coming within the spirit if not the letter of the laws under which special agents of the Department are appointed and their duties defined.

COMMUTATION.—The commutation of twenty five cents per day for rations of enlisted men who have been prisoners of war, is now being paid at the office of the Commissary General of Prisoners in Washington city, and quite a large number of cases have been disposed of already. A statement was made a short time ago in reference to the commencement of these payments, in which it was said that the commutation was due to officers who had been prisoners of war. This is a mistake None are entiteld but soldiers, sailors and marines.

EX-GOVERNOR Henry S. Foote drew the following sombre sketch of himself in a late speech in St. Louis: "A poor, unpardoned rebel, humbled in spirit, and paralyzed in all my energies, disfranchised, reviled and disregarded by thousands who once professed to love and to respect me, a forlorn Pariah in my native land."

VIRGINIA.

THE WARNING TO THE RICHMOND TIMES.

The following is the "warning" given The Richmond Times by Gen. Schofield:

HEADQ'RS FIRST DISTRICT STATE OF VA.,
RICHMOND, Va., April 27, 1867.

Mr. CHARLES H. WYNNE, Proprietor of the Richmond Times, Richmond, Va.

SIR: The Commanding General directs me to call your attention to an editorial article in The Richmond Times of this morning, headed, "A Black Man's Party in Virginia," and to say that while he desires not only to permit, but to encourage the utmost freedom of discussion of political questions, the character of the article referred to calls for severe censure, especially the following words: "It is a proposition which implies that they are ready to grasp the blood-stained hands of the authors of our ruin"—are an intolerable insult to all soldiers of the United States army, and no less so to all true soldiers of the late Confederate army, as they have long since extended to each other the cordial hand of friendship, and pledged their united efforts to restore peace and harmony to our whole country. The efforts of yours to foster enmity, create disorder, and lead to violence, can no longer be tolerated. It is hoped this warning will be sufficient. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

S. T. CHALFIN, Assistant Adjutant-General.

Pillow in Court.

General Gideon J. Pillow, whilom a soldier of the Confedracy, is just now experiencing some of the bitter fruits of his folly, and has been sued in the United States District Court of Tennessee, for goods taken by him, in command of "Confederate forces" during the war. An exchange says:

The defendant's plea, filed by Colonel Haynes, sets forth the facts and circumstances of the war, the exigencies and necessities of the cases, and was a plea of confession and avoidance or justification. The court held that the plea was bad, and said that the facts of the case and justification might be shown under the general issue. Both counsel in the case, viz: Colonel McRae for plaintiff, and Colonel Haynes and General Chalmer for the defendant, expressed their conviction that the case would go to the Supreme Court of the United States.

DR. BLACKBURN, who attempted to introduce the yellow fever into the United States during the rebellion, has petitioned the Attorney General for permission to return from Canada to his native land and take his trial in Kentucky. The Attorney General is understood to have answered that he had no power to grant the request.

The Southern States

ALABAMA.

MOBILE, May 2.—A Convention of the colored citizens of the State is now in session in this city. The object is to take grounds as to their future welfare. They will proclaim unbroken alliance with the Republican party. Mr. Conway of New York has been invited to address the Convention to-night.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Va., May 2.—The Hon. Charles Gibbons of Pennsylvania will address the negroes here to-morrow night.

MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE, May 2.—The colored voters of the city participated to-night in the Republican primary meetings, the attendance of this class of citizens being very large. The colored people took a great interest in matters, and showed that they understood the questions at issue. Nearly all the Wards sent mixed delegations of white and colored to the Convention.

GETTYSBURG ASYLUM
FOR INVALID SOLDIERS.

INCORPORATED by Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, March 6, 1867.

The Board of Supervisors appointed by the above Corporation to carry out the objects of the act of incorporation, respectfully announce to the public that the Legislature of Pennsylvania has authorized the raising of funds for the erection, establishment, and maintenance of an Asylum for Invalid Soldiers of the late war, to be built on the Battle-field of Gettysburg, and as an inducement to patriotic citizens to contribute to this benevolent object, have empowered the Corporation to distribute amongst the subscribers such articles of value and interest, from association with the late war, or any moneys, effects, property, or estate, real or personal, whatever, in this State or elsewhere, at such time or upon such terms, and in such way and manner whatsoever, as to them shall seem fit, any laws of this Commonwealth to the contrary notwithstanding.

The enterprise is cordially recommended by the following named well-known gentlemen:

Major General George G. Meade,
Ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin,
Major General Galusha Pennypacker,
" " F. M. Gregory,
" " John R. Brooke,
" " Charles H. T. Collis,

The site for the institution (thirty acres) has already been purchased, and it is hoped that the good work may commence before midsummer.

Subscriptions will be received at the office of the Association, No. 1126 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, on and after Monday, the 6th day of May, 1867.

For each subscription of five dollars a certificate will be issued, which will entitle the holder to such article of value as may be awarded to its number.

The first distribution of awards will be made immediately upon the receipt of 80,000 subscriptions, of $5 each.

The distribution will be public, and under the direct supervision of the Corporators.

Persons at a distance are requested to remit their subscriptions (when practicable) by Post office money order, or registered letter, to insure prompt delivery.

Direct all letters to

J. D HOFFMAN,
SECRETARY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.
Box 1481, P. O., Philadelphia.

The following is a schedule of the awards to be made under the first distribution. The items of Diamonds and other precious stones were purchased from citizens of the South during the war, and their genuineness is certified to by Messrs. Henle & Bros., the most extensive diamond importers in the country, and by J. Hermann, diamond setter, New York.

Serious Accident.—On Thursday of last week, while Mr. John McKenzie of Vanport, this county, was engaged in digging a cellar, the bank fell in on him and broke his leg. He lay partially covered with earth for about an hour before relief came to him. After being extricated, medical assistance was procured, and the fractured limb reduced. He is now in a fair way for recovery.

Honor Conferred.—We incidentally learned a short time ago, that at a regular meeting of the Good Templar's organization of Bridgewater, the degree of —— was conferred on our fellow citizen, J. H. Odell, Esq. This is an honor of which he may well feel proud.—The same degree was also conferred upon two or three others at that time. We can probably give their names with particulars in our next.

Public Lecture.—On to-morrow evening, (Thursday) Rev. J. Williams, D. D., Presiding Elder of this district, will deliver a lecture in the M. E. Church of Bridgewater. Subject—"The Christian orator on Mars' Hill." Proceeds to be applied to religious purposes. Mr. Williams is recognized here as a very able man, and whoever goes to hear the lecture referred to will have no cause to regret doing so. We hope to hear of a very large audience in attendance on that evening.

Cows Run Over.—Two cows, belonging to Mr. Heidleger, of Bridgewater, were run over by a train, near the railroad bridge, last Thursday afternoon, breaking both cows' legs, so that Mr. Heidleger was compelled to dispatch them, which he did with an ax. One of the cows he valued at one hundred dollars.—'Tis indeed a pity that so many of our cows are killed by locomotives. People ought to be more careful and keep them away from the railroad.

More Thieving.—In addition to the robbing of Mr. Swiger's money drawer, last week, the same thieves, it appears, broke into Mr. Taylor's photograph car, in the Diamond, and stole $25 from him, besides damaging the car and some of his moveable property. They next went to the barber shop of Mr. Williams, broke open the door, and stole from him about two dollars in money. Circumstances also go to show that they contemplated breaking into Orr & Dawson's store, in this place, but were frightened away by the dog that is kept in it at night.

Hats and Caps.—We would direct the attention of our readers in the county to the fact that Mr. S. J. Blackmore, a former resident of this county, and well known to many of its citizens as a prompt and reliable business man, is at present doing business at No. 24 St. Clair St., Pittsburgh, Pa., as a dealer in Hats and Caps. His stock is large, well selected, and has been purchased at the lowest cash rates. He is selling these goods at a small advance upon cash, and offers inducements to persons desiring to purchase which should not be overlooked. We would recommend those visiting Pittsburgh to call at Mr. Blackmore's establishment and examine his goods and prices.—Remember the number: 24 St. Clair St.

Separate Election District.—In compliance with a petition of the Town Council and citizens of the borough of Beaver, the court decreed at its November term that the borough of Beaver should be subject to all the restrictions and enjoy all the advantages, powers and privileges conferred by the act of April 3, 1851, and annulled the former charter, so far as it conflicted with said act. Being doubts in the minds of some as to whether the borough became a separate election district by said decree, a petition of citizens was presented at the adjourned court held here on the 2d, asking that the decree be so amended as to expressly declare it such. This amendment was ordered, and the Clerk directed to so record it; hence the voters of Borough township, will in the future vote at one place, and the voters of the borough of Beaver at another.

We are also informed that the same decree likewise makes Beaver borough an independent School District.

In Trouble.—The editor of the Local is in trouble. Some two or three weeks ago Mr. Moses Scott of this place collected from our citizens something over one hundred dollars for the relief of the destitute of the South.—The Local man, it appears, contributed a "mite," and under the pretext of misappropriation, he now insists that the aforesaid "mite" shall be returned to him. He talks viciously, and among other naughty things, says, "It would be fair proper to hold those who collected and disposed of it (the money) in the manner stated to an account for obtaining money under false pretences." This is all bosh.—The Local and its party friends have for some time past been insisting that Congress and the Union party were oppressing the Southern people, and claiming that they were the only friends in the North the late rebels now had. Well, these late rebels were represented a couple of weeks ago as being in a starving condition, and to relieve them a subscription was started in Beaver. Members of the Union party contributed quite freely, and when the paper was taken to Odell, he could not, in the face of what he had hypocritically said before, avoid giving a "mite." He "shelled out," but now roars, like a two year old boy, to have his "mite" returned to him again. If he ever had any love for the Southern people it "died out" when Scott "flanked" him to the tune of $2. He would'nt give a "red" now to save the whole South—men, women, children and "niggers"—from death. A little forced practice knocked his theory all to pieces,

A National Home For Invalid Soldiers.—Action is now being taken to provide a Home or Asylum for invalid soldiers, at Gettysburg. "In furtherance of this object the Legislature of this State, last winter, passed an act creating a corporation of which General Meade is President, and General H. G. Sickels is Treasurer, with an efficient board of Supervisors, who have the power to distribute to the holders of certificates a large number of immensely valuable gifts, consisting of diamonds, pearls, emeralds, rubies, &c., purchased from citizens of the Southern States during the rebellion, and which articles will soon be exhibited in this city. By this scheme it is confidently anticipated a large fund will be created towards the erection of the Home. A great feature of the affair consists in the fact that every purchaser of the certificates becomes a contributor to this National Home fund, and at the same time has a direct interest in the distribution of the rare gems mentioned above. The details of the entire scheme will be conducted in a perfectly fair and honorable manner. The site for the Home has already been purchased, and consists of thirty acres of land, used by General Meade during the battle of Gettysburg as his headquarters. The plan has been approved by ex-Governor Curtin, Major General Meade, Governor Geary, and a large number of prominent military heroes.—See the advertisement of the Association in another column.

Bounty Accounts.—We have on one or two occasions spoken of the act of the Legislature requiring township officers to make a public exhibit of their bounty accounts, through the newspapers. Some of these officers, in our own county, have attended to their duty promptly, while others have given the law referred to no attention whatever. For the information of these latter, we publish the act in question, and again invite their attention to it. It is as follows, and appears on pages 778 and 779 of the pamplet laws of 1866.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That it shall be the duty of the commissioners, supervisors, borough and city councils, school directors, board of election officers, and all other persons and officials who, under the direction and authority of an Act of the General Assembly, relating to the payment of bounties to volunteers, approved the twenty-fifth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and the several supplements thereto, proceeded to raise money by taxation, or otherwise, as the agents, officials or representatives of any county, township, ward, city, or borough, for the payment of bounties to volunteers, to have their accounts regularly and legally audited, at the time of auditing other accounts, by the proper board of auditors of the county, township, ward, city or borough, for which such moneys were so raised and expended.

Sec. 2. That in case any such accounts of moneys, raised for the payment of bounties as aforesaid shall not have been audited by the proper board of auditors, as provided in the first section, before the passage of this act, the said auditors, or a majority of them, shall notify the delinquent parties or officials, having authority to raise money for the payment of bounties to volunteers, to appear before them at a time and place fixed by said board of auditors, not less than fifteen nor more than thirty, days from the date of such notice, for the purpose of auditing these accounts up to the preceding fiscal year, thence annually hereafter, as provided in the first section; and upon failure of the auditors to attend to their duty, or of the delinquent officials to meet and make a settlement with the board of auditors, aforesaid, each person, so offending, shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars, to be collected before a justice of the peace, or alderman, as other debts of like amount are collectable, one-half to be paid to the prosecutor, and one half to be paid into the school fund of the county, township, ward borough, or city, for which such delinquent has been acting.

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of the auditors, immediately after the settlement, as aforesaid, to prepare a condensed statement of the condition of these finances, and publish the same at the cost of the district, for three successive weeks, in the two newspapers having the largest circulation in the city or county.

James B. Kelley,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
David Fleming,
Speaker of the Senate.

Approved the eleventh day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six. A. G. Curtin.

Manufacturing Salt.—We stated some time ago that Capts. French and McDonald of this vicinity, were putting up the fixtures to manufacture salt in Raccoon township, this county. A week or ten days ago, having everything in readiness, they commenced the work of boiling, and are now in successful operation. On Saturday last we were shown some of the salt manufactured by them, and a better article we have not seen, for some time. Their product sells readily at about three dollars per barrel. In common with the people of the county, we hope that their enterprise will prove a pecuniary success.

Recording of Soldiers' Discharges.—The last Legislature passed a law requiring the Recorders of the several counties to place on record the discharges of soldiers, so that in case of their being lost or destroyed the proofs will still remain on the county records. It is as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted &c., That the Recorders of Deeds in the several counties of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized and required to record all final discharges of commissioned and non-commissioned officers and privates upon application being made to them by the holders of the same and that the recording of the same shall not be subject to the payment of the State tax.

Dr. Dempsey's Lecture.—The lecture prepared by Dr. Dempsey of this place, (noticed by us last week, as a reply to one delivered a short time ago by a Canton, (O.) Attorney) was delivered at Massillon, on Thursday evening of last week. We have incidentally learned that quite a large audience had assembled to hear it, that the Drs. lecture was a very fine one, and that his numerous friends, present on the occasion, were highly pleased with his handling of the subject under discussion.

Thanks.—We are indebted to John B. Eakin Esq., for late New Orleans papers.

Gone to Work.—Our rolling mills and nail factories are all now in full operation. The hands went to work on Monday last, at the prices asked, and for which they struck. Business about the works has quite a different aspect since they have fired up. It is to be hoped that the proprietors will be enabled to sell at prices to warrant them in paying the wages asked by the workmen. In Pittsburgh and Sharon work has also been resumed.—Lawrence Journal.

Sabbath School Convention.—The County Sunday School Convention held in the Presbyterian Church of this place on the 2d and 3d was quite a success. Although many portions of the county were not represented in the convention, still, the attendance was large, and the exercises of a most interesting character. Rev. J. E. Gilbert, of Buffalo, was present and conducted the proceedings in a manner which could not fail to make favorable and lasting impressions for good. He will be sure to receive a cordial welcome among the good people of Beaver, should he find it convenient to visit our town at any future time. There is but little doubt that the convention has given a fresh impetus to the Sunday School cause in this vicinity, as ministers and people seemed more than ever determined, to devote their best energies to its success. We expect to publish a fuller account of the proceedings in our next issue.

Stanzas.

To one who will understand them.

There was a time—there was a day—
Our friendship seem'd a thing divine;
But ah! that time has passed away—
Our friendship now knows swift decline.
Could all the deeds of days gone by—
Could all the thoughts, the hopes and fears
Be blotted from my mem'ry's eye.
There might be bliss in coming years.
But gloomy shadows of the past,
Still throw their darkness o'er my heart;
As clouds, when oe'r the sun they're cast,
A gloomy shade to earth impart.
But be it so. What 's past, I've borne:—
What's still to come, I'll try to bear;
And, though your friendship's turn'd to scorn,
My eyes shall strive no grief to wear.
Would I might hate—would I could show
The same indifference you feel;
But, though I strive, all too well know
The feelings I would fain conceal.
Thy heart is cold which once beat warm;
With smiles no more thy lips beguile;
That glance forbodes the rising storm,
Like lightning from the "fleecy pile."
Oh! may it burst with all its power—
May pent-up wrath pour from thy heart,
For sunshine may succeed the shower—
New friendship, like young buds, may start.

Frank Riggle,
Hookstown, Pa.

DIED.

On the 5th of May, 1867 in Beaver, Pa., Mrs. Catherine, wife of Rev. Joshua Monroe, in the 81st year of her age.

We find the following very clever lyric in the Sunday Mercury. It has the ring of Heine, and is fully as good as many of the "poemlets" of that distinguished missionary of the grotesque.

The Fashionable Young Lady.

By a School Girl.

She sits in the lighted parlor,
And waits for the tardy beaux;
She plays with her little fingers,
And trots with her little toes;
She calls for her Spanish poodle,
She calls for her China fan,
She kisses her long-eared puppy,
And wishes it was a man.

Her mother stays in the kitchen,
Dressed in her coarse attire;
She's freezing over the ices;
And roasting over the fire;
She's making some nice confection—
Some delicious kind of treat—
Of creams and various jellies,
For her daughter's beaux to eat.

Having secured the Agency for the Empire Sewing Machine!

I respectfully solicit an examination of the same by the public.

This Machine is constructed on a new principle of mechanism, possessing many rare and valuable improvements, having been examined by the most profound experts, and pronounced to be simplicity and perfection combined

In a mechanical point of view, the advantages we claim for the "Empire Machine," are—

1st.—The method of driving the Needle Bar by a compound crank, which produces the same action as heretofore obtained by means of a Cam; but in a more durable and noiseless manner.

2d.—We use a rotating shaft above the table, and thus are enabled to give all the room required under the arm; without detriment to the durability of Machines; having a bearing directly over the Needle Bar.

3d.—Our Feed Wheel is a friction feed, and so constructed that there is but one joint in transmitting the motion from the rock shaft to the wheel, and unlike all others, cannot be effected by oil or dust.

4th.—The Rock Shaft that works the Feed motion also drives the Shuttle. The bearings of this Shaft and Centres are hardened steel and adjustable, so that we can take up the lost motion at will.

The following are the principal objections urged against Sewing Machines:

1. Excessive fatigue to the operator.
2. Liability to get out of order.
3. Expense, trouble, and loss of time in repairing.
4. Incapacity to sew every description of material.
5. Disagreeable noise while in operation.

The Empire Sewing Machine is Exempt from all these Objections.

It has a straight needle, perpendicular action, makes the Lock or Shuttle Stitch, which will neither rip nor ravel, and is alike on both sides; performs perfect sewing on every description of material, from Leather to the finest Nansook Muslin, with cotton, linen, or silk thread, from the coarsest to the finest number.

IT HEMS, FELLS, BINDS, BRAIDS, TUCKS, QUILTS, PLAITS, and GATHERS,

Having neither cam nor cog wheel, and the least possible friction, it runs as smooth as glass, and is

Emphatically a Noiseless Machine

CONVERSION OF 7 3-10s.

In reply to numerous inquiries in regard to the manner of converting the August 7 3-10s into the new 5-20 Gold Coupon Bond we make the following statement for the benefit of the holders of 7 3-10s, who may not be informed:

The Government computes the interest on both bonds in currency from the date of the maturity of the last coupon, allowing seven and three-tenths on the 7 3-10s, and charging six per cent on the 5-20s. For example: you sent to Washington $1,000 7 3-10 Bond which reaches there on

|---|---|
| May 1st | $1,000 |
| 74 days interest (From Feb. 15.) | 14 80 |
| 5-20s | $1,000 |
| 119 days interest (from Janlst) | 19 56 |
| (This is counted at 365 days per annum) | 1,019 56 |
| Allowed for 7 3-10, | 1,014 80 |
| You pay Government | 4 76 |

It will be seen by this that the Gold interest is given as currency, which is of itself a profit to the party converting the 7 3-10s of nearly eight dollars per $1,000, aside from the fact that at the present rate of Gold, the 5-20s pay over 8 per cent. per annum.

We are converting the 7 3-10s on much better terms than the Government, as the present buying and selling rates enables us to allow the holder of the 7 3-10s a better figure than has yet been offered by any one as a commission.

We also exchange the new 5-20 bond for the other Series of 7 3-10s on the most favorable terms.

Parties exchanging through us, in addition they to getting much better terms than they can from the Government, will have their 5-20s delivered to them immediately, thus saving delay. We also register any bonds sent to us without charge. On all bonds sent us by express we pay charges both ways, and send bonds promptly as directed.

(Near Bridge.)

MANUFACTURERS and dealers in Planed Lumber, Dressing, Flooring, Siding, Doors, Sash, Shutters, &c.

Contractors and Builders!

Also proprietors of Clarke & Rhinesmith's Patent Weather Boarding, Patented May 1st, 1866, for the exterior of houses, &c. This siding consists in forming the various strips of boards of a level or tapering shape across its entire width, with lower or thicker edge, made with a suitable moulding to impart a finished and neat appearance. Shop rights for the manufacture and use of this siding in Beaver county, will be sold reasonable.

Having had much experience in building, and the Lumber business generally added our new facilities for its manufacture, we feel confidence in inviting our old friends and patrons to call and examine for themselves, before contracting elsewhere.
